Jeremiah Castille, Founder Jeremiah Castille Foundation

Jeremiah Castille is a former defensive back for the University of Alabama having played from 1979 to 1982, winning the National Championship in 1979 and making the College Football All-America team in 1982. He played six seasons in the NFL for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and Denver Broncos. Jeremiah married Jean in 1983 and they have six children. They are also proud grandparents. Throughout Jeremiah's professional career, he knew he had a call from God to mentor, coach and minister to young people. He felt called to reach out to inner city youth and bring them hope and faith for the future. In 2001 Jeremiah became an ordained minister and founded the Jeremiah Castille Foundation to do just that. Today he also serves as the Chaplain of the University of Alabama football team. Jeremiah remembers four words that Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant instilled in him... Leadership, Opportunity, Relationships and Discipline. These are the words that Jeremiah lives by in his daily walk.
